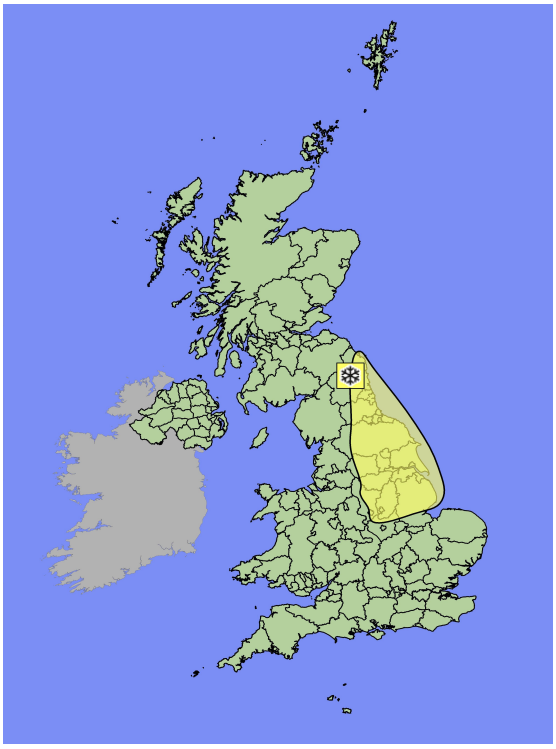
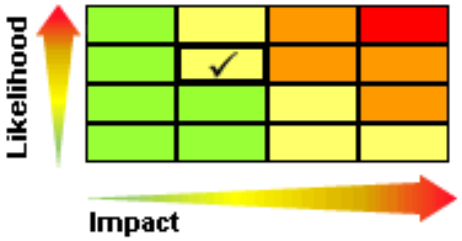
National Severe Weather Warning Service





CANCELLED

Chief Forecasters Assessment
Easterly winds are expected to bring cold air across the North Sea from Scandinavia this weekend. This will lead to snow showers feeding into northeastern areas of England and increasingly to low levels during Saturday night.

The snow showers will become isolated across northeast England by Sunday afternoon.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Snow

Valid from 00:05 on Sun, 13th Jan 2013 until 23:55 on Sun, 13th Jan 2013

Snow showers are likely to affect northeast England and the northeast Midlands during Sunday. Amounts of snow are likely to be highly variable with some places seeing very little. However, 5-10 cm could accumulate locally, particularly above 100 metres, with icy surfaces an additional hazard.

The public should be aware of the potential for localised disruption to travel.
